20th FAI European Gliding Championship 2019

July 6th – July 21st, 2019

PRIEVIDZA, Slovakia

Bulletin N° 1

First Information for all FAI members concerning the 20th FAI EGC

Dear gliding friends,

The Slovak National Aeroclub and the Aeroclub of Prievidza, as the Organiser, kindly invite all National Aeroclubs to participate in the 20th FAI European Gliding Championships in the Club, Standard and 15m classes in the summer of 2019.

The Championships will take place in Prievidza, whose aeroclub boasts almost 70 years' flying tradition. The aeroclub has often organised both national and international gliding championships, among them, the 31st World gliding Championship, Women's EGC as well numerous international Slovak Gliding Championships where 61st Slovak Gliding Championship has been organised as the pre-competition to the 20th FAI European Gliding Championship.

The airfield's fantastic location in a valley among hills with great connections to the two nearby towns of Prievidza and Bojnice, as well as the airfield's excellent facilities: good flying, meals & accommodation, glider repairs and relaxation, ensure that our visitors enjoy both their flying and their stay in our country.

The airfield's strategic location allows the effective use of not only Slovak but also Czech Republic, Polish and Hungarian airspace. Long, beautiful flights begin with early departures into the hills and end with arrivals from long thermally-active areas. At the same time, the 20th FAI EGC has wide support at the regional level – the Championship organisation is the work of a wide spectrum of institutions, companies but most importantly people. We believe that, through such dedicated teamwork, we will provide you with an unforgettable flying experience.

If your NAC has been hesitating about sending a team, we hope to have persuaded you.

All you have to do is to fill in the online registration form, available at the Championship's official website www.egc2019.sk from December 1st, 2018.

Welcome to Prievidza!
